

P.A.T. CERTIFICATE

WHY DO WE NEED A P.A.T CERTIFICATE

Portable Appliance Test Certificate. The Health & Safety at Work Act 1974 puts the duty of care upon both the employer and employees to ensure the safety of all persons using the work premises. This includes the self employed. The Health & Safety at Work Act 1974 and The Electricity at Work Regulations 1989 apply to all electrical equipment used in, or associated with places of work. The scope extends from distribution to the smallest electrical piece of equipment

INFORMATION

All the equipment / devices that has a plug which is being used on the premises and is over 1 year old should be tested. We require a sticker to be placed onto each tested plug stating the date it was checked. Your electrician should supply you with a list of items tested. If your items are under 1 year old, then we require to see receipts for the purchase of these items. This work should normally be carried out by a competent person, usually an electrician

WHEN SHOULD WE SEND THE P.A.T. CERTIFICATE

On Application and Annual Renewal

LINK

<http://www.hse.gov.uk/electricity/faq-portable-appliance-testing.htm>