Symbols have proved to be an effective way of making written information more accessible for some people with learning disabilities.

This booklet uses Makaton symbols with written text.

If you are a facilitator for someone who is a symbol or a sign user, please note the following general tips:

- Bear the individual in mind. Try to identify any concepts and symbols you think may be difficult for the person to understand. You may need to teach the meaning of these first.
- Using signs can also be helpful for people with learning disabilities to support the understanding of the text and the symbols.
